

The History, Natural and Experimental, of Life and Death: Or of the Prolongation of Life (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from The History, Natural and Experimental, of Life and Death: Or of the Prolongation of Life As much as is poisible. Be forbidden and refrained and the latter com forted. The former of these pertains, especially to the Spirit: and outward Air, by which the Depredation and Waite is committed the latter to the whole race of g limmrdtian or Nourishment, whereby the Renovation or Reititution is made. Ahd as for the former part touching Confumption, thishath many things common with Bodies Inwimte, or without life. For fuch things as the Native Spirit (which is in all tangible Bodies. Whether. Living or without life) and the ambient or external Air worketh upon Bodies Inanimate, the fame it attempteth upon Animate or Living Bodies; although the Vital irit fuperadded, doth partly break and bridle those Operations, partly exalt and advance them wonderfully. For it is manifeit that Inanimate Bodies (molt of them) will endure along time without any Reparation; but Bodies Animate without food and Reparation suddenly fall and are extinguished, as the Fire is. So then, our Inqoifition {hall be double. Firil, we wi lconiiider the Body of Man as Inanimare, and not repaired by Nourishment: Secondly, as Animate and repaired by Nourish mem. Thus having Prefaced these things. We come now to the Topic/(places of Inquifitcn. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
